Redistricting Reappears As Waveland Forum Set

Redistricting, a topic which has bounced from court to court as well as pillar to post since 1963, arose not once but twice this week.

Tommy Kidd, president of the Waveland Men's Civic Association, announced that the group has called an open forum to begin at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 2, at St. Clare's Parish Hall with David Johnson moderating.

The meeting is open to the public and all five supervisors and representing attorneys are requested to attend. Also plaintiffs Joan de Sardon Glass, Powell Glass, Jr., Carol Martinolich and Andrew Martinolich, M.D. have consented to appear.

Interested officers and members of all civic or social groups are also urged to take part in this most important discussion.

In a decision handed down April 1, 1968, on a similar case, Avery vs. Midland County,

Tex., the United States Supreme Court ruled:

"The question now before us is whether the Fourteenth Amendment likewise forbids the election of local government officials from districts of disparate size. As has almost every court which has addressed itself to this question, we hold that it does."

Also: "Our decision today is only that the Constitution imposes one ground rule for the development of arrangements of local government; a requirement that units with general governmental powers over an entire geographic area not be apportioned among single-member districts of substantially unequal population.

Redistricting simply involves giving every voter equal representation, and inequality of representation in Hancock County has long caused discontent. As an example, it takes approximately 48 votes population-wise to elect a supervisor in Beat 5, as it does in Beat 2 which has the lone Flatport voting box.

Beat 1, Pearlinton, has three boxes as does Beat 3; Five are in Beat 4 and heavily populated Beat five accommodates 10 voting precincts.

The original suit to change beat boundaries was filed Oct. 13, 1963, by Powell Glass, Jr., Dr. A. K. Martinolich, Jr., and (See Supervisors on Page 9-A.)

national significance aimed at learning more about the forces of weather.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., announced last week that NASA will participate with the Environmental Science Services Administration in the new project called Bomex as a data collecting point.

Bomex, meaning Barbados Oceanographic and Meteorological experiment, is a large-scale effort to be initiated in 1969 to largely study climatology at the air-sea interface in the area surrounding Barbados in the British West Indies which is a focal point of some crucial factors in global weather.

According to Senator Stennis, NASA has been authorized to spend $400,000 to participate in the project and an additional $400,000 commitment appears certain.

A number of other governmental agencies will also be involved in the Bomex project which will be under direction of the Environmental Science Services Administration, a branch of the U.S. Department of Commerce which includes the Weather Bureau.

Bomex project director, Col. William Barney, U.S. Air Force (ret.), and several of his assistants visited the Coast last week in connection with locating a point for base operations. Warehouse space and port facilities are essential of base operations along with adequate airport facilities, it was learned.

Mississippi Test Facility's role in the Bomex project probably stems from NASA's considerable experience already with weather satellites and information processing.

Brush Fires Plague Area

Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd expressed appreciation to all who helped in fighting three major weekend brush fires. Five units, two from Bay St. Louis and one each from Waveland, East Hancock Volunteer and NASA, answered calls.

Kidd stressed the danger of starting even small trash fires during this extremely dry period.

Pat Toomoy, game warden warns hunters about extinguishing cigarettes. He also said that in several instances fire fighting units were hampered in roaching scenes of blazes by parked trucks blocking fire roads in local swamp areas.

The Apollo-Saturn rocket program has a ways to go at MTF with nine more first stages and a number of second stages still scheduled to undergo static tests at the sprawling site in Hancock County.

However, the test site, under present schedules, should complete this mission in December 1970 with the last S-II rocket stage slated for testing in September 1970 and the last S-IC stage in October 1970.

It is also well known that the Apollo program is being phased out financially on completion of the current effort to place space men on the moon by 1970.

This new Bomex project would place MTF on a more permanent role as a testing site. This program would be more of a long range project than the present space projects now going on at MTF.

Senator Stennis, in his announcement, said if Bomex is successful, a project dealing with weather data in the tropics and called Tromex is planned, and a worldwide project called Glomex could follow.

The ultimate aim is awesome -- not only to learn more about the forces of weather and to predict it well in advance for commercial and life-saving purposes but to actually alter the weather.

Jaycees Oppose Tree Cutting

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees went on record Thursday night as opposed to the cutting of any timber on Jackson Ridge. The resolution was a result of a report by Roger Davis, project chairman for the proposed Jaycee recreation area on Jackson Ridge.

Davis reported that the Board of Supervisors authorized the issuing of bids for cutting over 300,000 board feet of timber off the Sixteenth Section land. One bid was submitted by a Gulfport lumber company and held in abeyance until the November 4th meeting.

According to Davis, over 3000 trees are involved in the cutting. He stated that the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, the Waveland Civic Association, the Hancock County School Board, and other organizations have all gone on record as opposed to the cutting of timber off Jackson Ridge.

The Jaycees have been negotiating with the County for a lease on Jackson Ridge for the development of a recreation area. The proposed development will include tenting, picnicking and overnight camping grounds.

In other action, the Jaycees went on record in support of the school bond issue which will be voted on October 29th. In response to a request from the Hancock County Farm Bureau (See Jaycees on Page 9-A.)

Supervisors go-ahead On Major Projects

Hancock County board of supervisors Monday opened the door to more progress in Hancock County in voting yes almost unanimously, on a number of key motions.

Johnson Shaw and Dr. A. K. Martinolich were appointed members of the Pearl River Basin Development Committee, with the provision that no legitimate protests are filed before the deadline for the county to join the association.

Beach road, rebuilding is also due to get underway shortly. Southern Paving will begin the job as soon as $242,700 in local funds are deposited in the state treasury to supplement $170,870 in federal road project funds. Dolph Kellar made the motion to expedite funds to Jackson; seconded by Joe Cuevas. Total funds for the project amount to $413,275. A motion to let $70,000 by contract for the much discussed Caesar-Necaise Road was also approved.

County general fund budget from Oct. 1 through Sept. 30, '69, was also unanimously accepted after motion by Cuevas, seconded by J.C. (Peck) Maufrey.

Charles Hill, port director then presented resolutions set by the Hancock County port and harbor board at their Oct. 17, session.

Claim check D, including fees for engineering services, inspection, soil testing and item 2, airport access road grading, paving, drainage plans and specifications, were accepted on motion by Cuevas, seconded by Maufrey.

Next came discussion of direct employment of Thomas L. Geiger as a resident inspector for both port and labor and airport facilities. Geiger, an engineer previously on the Michael-Baker payroll will be paid a flat $200 weekly salary, with 7¢ per mile automobile allowance, by the local board, thus saving the county an estimated $600, to $1,000 monthly, effective Nov. 1.

Hill pointed out that dirt work at the airport site is now 100 percent complete adding that most of Geiger's time would now be spent at the port location.

After lengthy discussion the engineering firm of Thomas Promhurst was engaged to (See Redistricting on Page 9-A.)

Fix-up Days Scheduled At Little Theater

November 22 and 23 will be dates set aside for an all-theater clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaign of the Little Theater, with plenty of hearty refreshments provided for all who offer their services.

Andre Aronson, chairman of the event, states that any Little Theater member or other interested person, male or female, junior or adult, who can wield a brush, hammer, screw, nail, or painting cloth will be more than welcome. He stresses, however, that anyone who plans to volunteer for the project should telephone him in advance in order to be counted in on the fixed schedule and other good things to eat.

"It is interesting to note," states Aronson, "that the present Little Theater was erected in 1947, painting of the building was accomplished by the same system of volunteer service on the part of many members and friends, who in two days completed the work on the entire structure. It is hoped that once again willing hands will provide the labor and the twenty-year-old theater will emerge with a real face-lift."

controlled in an example of one attempt already being made on a small scale.

The idea of a global system was boosted officially in 1961 when President John F. Kennedy in a United Nations speech proposed peaceful co-operative efforts between all nations in weather prediction and eventually in weather control.

The technological capacity, both in the United States and Russia, to produce weather satellites boosted the idea rapidly.

For example, beginning in 1960 the Tirox satellites, developed for NASA by RCA because of the space program's need for a long-range weather picture were highly successful.

An initial large-scale operation in 1967 aimed at gathering meteorological data from an area in the South Pacific along the equator gives some idea of the probable scope of Bomex operations in the Caribbean.

The Pacific operation, of two months duration, included almost 100 scientists, weather ships and research aircraft with logistic support from ESSA, the Navy, Air Force and Air National Guard. It obtained data requiring up to two years to organize and analyze.

By comparison, a national magazine article recently described Bomex as an expedition which will be about ten times larger in cost.

Bomex, according to an article in Fortune magazine, in addition to the paraphernalia of conventional weather instruments, weather ships, aircraft and satellites will include the first extensive operating tests for systems of free-floating oceanographic weather buoys which have been developed by various agencies.

The U.S. Coast Guard is instrumental in coordinating the buoys program for ESSA.

The still larger Tromex project, covering a huge area in the South Pacific, is being proposed for 1972 and, if operations prove successful, the possibility of a full-scale global weather observation experiment is being projected for 1976.

A target at the end of the proposed series of experiments would be not only a global weather communications system but computer centers where rapid and accurate forecasts of global weather could be obtained two or three weeks in advance.

CYO MEET

O.L.G. CYO will meet Monday evening at 7:30 at Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Hall.

Lagarde Installed OLG Youth Proxy

Jules Lagarde was installed president of Our Lady of the Gulf CYO at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the Parish Hall. Others taking office were Holly Hayden, vice president; Mary Ellen Murphy, secretary; Wimpy Ames, treasurer; Joey Monti, social chairman; Jim Morlan, physical; Julie Stack, spiritual and Kathi Blaise, cultural chairman. A youth Mass with Rev. Richard Somers, celebrant, followed installation ceremonies.

oversee completion of school phase of the port and harbor facility, Mr. Michael Baker's contract has been completed. It was voted to hold up the L&N Railroad spur track pending discussion as to why the original seven and one-half mile spur track location proposed by Michael Baker was unacceptable to the railroad, which set forth a new plan involving a track only five miles in length. The above motion was made by Mantray, seconded by Casvay with Elliott and Charles A. Russ voting aye and Keller abstaining. The recommendation was made that Mr. Hill investigate the railroad spur question further before action is taken.

Sheriff Fred Curet appeared to state that the new computerized license tag sales program has proved most effective and has cost the county no extra money. He added that the few complaints had been of a minor nature.

Rodney Sandoz of Hancock Bank Computer Operations Service outlined a plan whereby county tax collections could be streamlined by using a similar service.

Wilson Webre, tax deputy explained that subdivisions such as Bayside Park and Shoreline Park posed an enormous problem for office personnel, adding that it sometimes cost from $3 to $5 to collect $1 in taxes.

The board expressed interest and president Russell Elliott said the only question was once again financing. Curet pointed out that it would be self-sustaining once into operation, but Elliott said that was still the big question—where would the original money come from? The matter is to be further discussed at the Nov. meeting.

No official action was taken when a map with another plan for county redistricting appeared upon the board table after the luncheon recess, but numerous informal comments gave the impression that most board members are in favor of an acceptable plan for equalizing the county's voting privileges.

Jaycees...

reau Federation, the Jaycees voted to support the closed range proposition for Hancock County roads. The Farm Bureau is requesting a vote on the closed range proposition.

PARISH COUNCIL

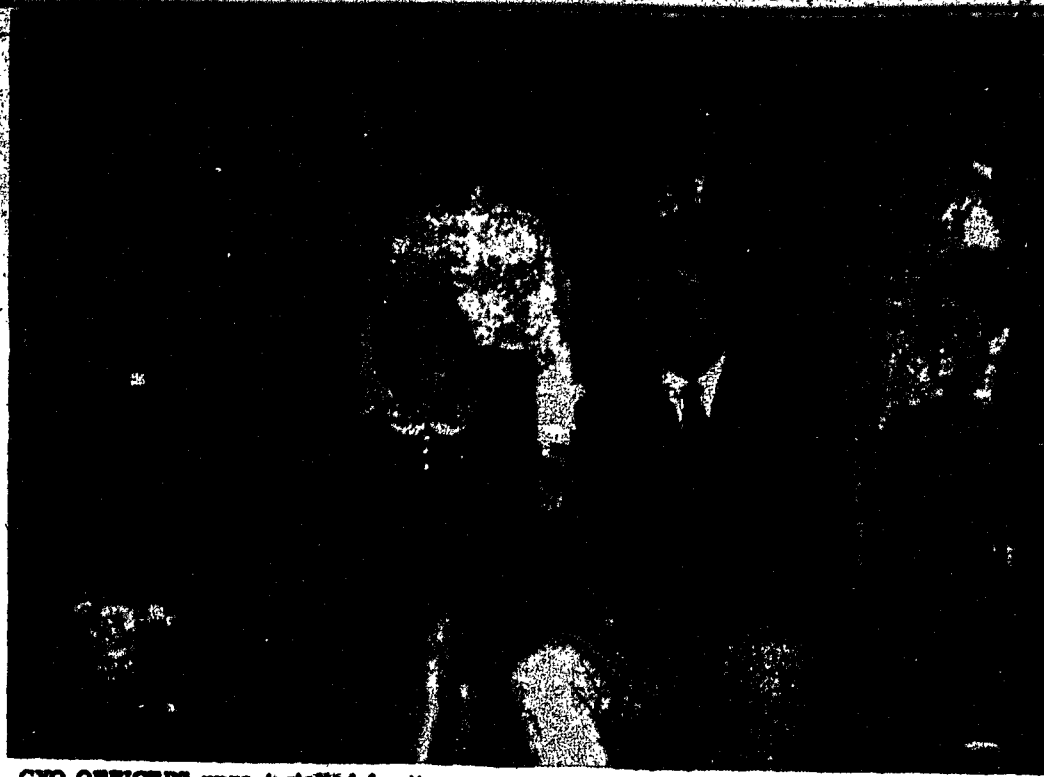

Election of officers for Our Lady of the Gulf Parish Council will take place at tonight's meeting at 7:30 in the Parish Hall.

Egan...

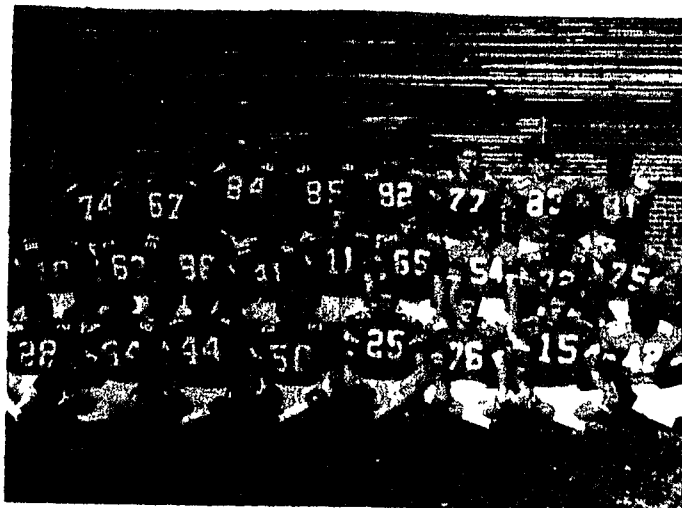

While attending school Egan received the quarterbacks club trophy for the highest athletic average of all athletes and the American Legion Award for being the outstanding student.

Egan is a member of Boats U.S. and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. He was also a chartered member and organizer of the Hancock County Fishing Rodeo and was the originator of the present rodeo's slogan and emblem.

Egan states that his ultimate aim is full national accreditation of all Hancock County schools.

CYO OFFICERS were installed for the coming year at Mass Sunday at OLG Parochial School. Rev. Richard Somers was celebrant of the Mass. Officers seated with Rev. Richard Somers - Jules Lagarde, president; Holly Hayden, vice-president; Mary Ellen Murphy, secretary; Wimpy Ames, treasurer; social chairman, Joe Monti; culture chairman, Kathi Blaise; physical chairman, Jim Morlan; spiritual chairman, Julie Stack.

Anderson States...

Hancock County Republican Chairman W. M. Anderson this week said Richard Nixon, as president, would strengthen Hancock County farm income in three key areas.

"Nixon agrees with Hancock County farmers, Anderson said, 'That farmers are being short-changed on the market today. He has pledged that he will not let the urgent needs of the Mississippi farmer be out-shouted by the radicals of the ghetto.'"

Of great interest to Nixon, Anderson declared, is the use of tax incentives to bring industry and business out of the large cities, enabling the rural people of Mississippi to live and prosper where they are.

Additionally, he said, Nixon's understanding of the problems of the state's farmers is further evidenced "by his recent support of the one year extension of the current cotton program that Hancock County farmers wanted for the 1969-70 crop year. Anderson noted that Nixon was joined in this support by Mississippi and other Southern agricultural leaders.

Thirdly, Anderson asserted that Nixon "will give Hancock County farmers a larger share of the world market profit by pressing for tougher negotiations on trade agreements and tariffs."

Hancock County farmers cannot afford to take the risk of having Humphrey elected and continue with farm-loss policies by supporting a third party that can only protest for another 10 days," he concluded.

Library...

Contributions or pledges toward this fund will be accepted at the Hancock Bank, Gulf National Bank or Merchants Bank in Bay St. Louis. It is hoped that of the $200,000 cost of the new library and its equipment will be raised by this method and that the other half will be provided through a bond issue to be voted on November 5.

'69 Impala Custom Coupe

Just sitting there, this '69 Chevrolet can do four things competitive cars can't:

It can wash its headlights. It can apply liquid tire chain to its rear wheels. It can silently defrost the rear window. It can keep you cool or warm automatically with Comforton, the self-adjusting air conditioning system.

And once you've added all these wonderful devices to a new Chevrolet, you just can't imagine why anyone would give a second thought to a second-place car.

The headlight washers and liquid tire chain for traction on slippery roads are operated at the touch of a button from the driver's seat. So is the silent new rear-window defroster. Invisible ceramic strips on the glass heat up to keep the window clear.

Also available: Chevrolet's Light Monitoring System that lets you know from inside if all your outside lights are working, full four-speaker stereo, a smooth 3-speed Turbo Hydra-matic transmission. All in a car made quieter, made stronger, made more comfortable. Now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

We've said it before and we'll say it again. Match this year's other '69s. Putting you first.

Miss. Land Values Up Nine Percent

Land values in Mississippi rose approximately nine percent from 1968 to 1967.

This is part of a 60 percent increase in the state's land values in five years. Only one state, Arkansas, had a greater gain with 63 percent. The U.S. average was 37 percent during these years, 1968 to 1967.

These and related facts are reported by W.M. Best, director, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, from statistics compiled by the Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

New Libraries Springing Up Throughout Mississippi

During the past four years 18 new libraries like these have opened in Mississippi, due to a growing realization that books have never been more important to people than they are today.

NOW a new, fireproof, modern library serving all of Hancock County can be yours very easily. A majority vote for it on this coming election day will cost each citizen very little, yet it will provide $100,000 in the next five years towards its cost.

(Suppose, for instance, that your property is assessed at $800. You would pay only 80¢ a year for five years as your share toward building the library! Even an assessment of $2000 dollars would cost you only $2 a year for five years!)

The library bond proposal is the last one on the ballot. LOOK FOR IT! VOTE FOR IT! THIS IS A TREMENDOUS OPPORTUNITY!

ANIMAL NOTES - HELP
 Once again some animal lovers have a problem -- it's a tiny female dog who just happens to be a little bit pregnant. She's now living behind the Waveland post office and is given food and water by Lolly Backlund, Dottie Stapleton and postal employees--but she must have a good home before her family arrives. If someone will adopt the little mother we can guarantee to give the puppies away and a generous and humane person, namely the above named Lolly, will foot the bill for necessary surgery for the canine after the little ones are weaned -- we don't think you'll find a better offer anywhere.

Mary (Mrs. Jack) Clark was released from Gulfport Memorial Hospital Monday after having surgery on her right hand and arm last Tuesday. She's hoping to return to her Echo job within the next couple of weeks--that is depending upon when her doctor releases her.

Good news for flower lovers--Conrad Sick is no longer ill and has returned to his beloved greenhouse and nursery.

FISHING NOTES - FISHERMEN
 come and fishermen go, but the Echo still cannot be followed by any angler including your reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curran are fairly proud of their son who has won two prizes in the recent state 4-H contest.

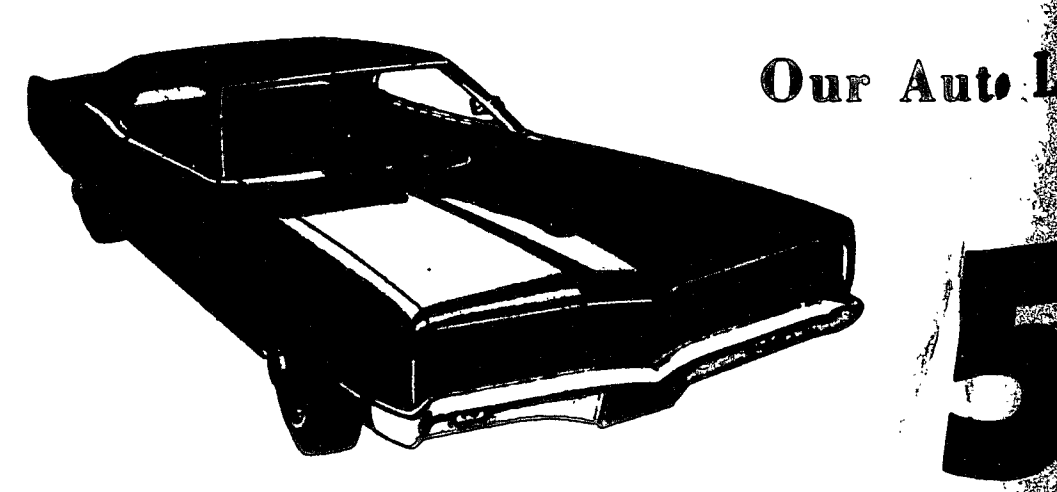

COMPLAINT DEPT.
 Your city clerk says may be the answer to many traffic problems, but until local and out-of-town drivers learn when to stop and when to proceed, they're worse bottle necks than blind arrows.

SHORTS AND SKINNY ALONG THE WAY
 The glowing white, empty seats of the Windermere beach in late October, early arrived herons of black and green herons flies -- another ethical change, no doubt; the dignity of beautiful dressed women just waiting for their day, all kinds and two pounds round of birds, some and strong north wind, traffic leaves from their lady fingers.

FIGHTING TIGER quarterback Steve Hays carries the ball against onrushing Rockchaws defenders at St. Stanislaus Stadium last Friday night. Both teams moved the ball well both on the ground and in the air.

Rock-a-Chaws Turn Back Fighting Bay High Tigers

By Keith Lodner

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws defense proved too much for the Bay High Tigers as the Rocks shut out the Tigers 16-0. The first quarter saw the game develop into a defensive struggle between both teams. Early in the first quarter it looked as if the Rocks would score quickly but an interception at the three stopped a good drive. After that neither team was able to move the ball consistently.

Midway into the second quarter the Rocks were on the move. A third down play failed at the fifteen, however, and the Rocks called on Mike Gemelli to kick a field-goal from twenty-two yards out. The kick hit the cross bar and bounced over, giving the Rocks a 3-0 lead at half.

In the third quarter the Rocks scored their first T.D. when a Ronnie Prudhomme cracked over from six yards out. The extra point attempt went wide to the right. As the third quarter ended the Rocks held on to a shaky 9-0 lead.

The Tigers were never able to get any kind of rally going in the last quarter. Their running game was held in check and their passing attack was completely disarmed by Ronnie Onstale who came up with two big interceptions in the last quarter.

The Rocks however did manage one more score. With only six minutes remaining quarterback Paul Gravolet found Gemelli at the twenty. Gemelli took it in between two defenders and raced into the end zone for the last score. His extra point attempt was good. Making the final score 16-0 St. Stanislaus. Next week will be homecoming for both schools. Saint Stanislaus will play host to Our Lady of Victory. The Rocks are now 4-2. Bay High will play host to Poplarville. The Tigers are 1-6.

Pirates Defeat Hawks at Pass

Pass Christian's Pirates sweetened homecoming ceremonies Friday night as they won 20-7 in non-conference high school football victory over the Hancock North Central Hawks at Pass Christian.

The victory ups the Pirates' won-lost record to 4-2 while Hancock North Central is now 1-5.

The Pirates tallied their first touchdown in the first quarter when quarterback Jay Long tallied on a two-yard keeper. Fullback Mickey Bishop added the first of two extra points on a three-yard smash. Bishop personally accounted for the Pirates' second touchdown in the third period when he hit paydirt from six yards out and again ran over for the one point conversion.

Hancock North Central's only score came in the third period as Robert Jackson was on the receiving end of a four-yard scoring pass from J.W. Rawls. Rawls also added the PAT on a run.

The final Pirate score came in the fourth period on an eight-yard pass from Long to tailback John Dubuisson. The extra point attempt failed.

THE MAN WITH A PLAN Education and Industry

When any industry surveys an area for location, certain basic factors are considered. They are the geographic location, industrial facilities, educational status of schools, and the local labor force. We talk about education and our children's future. The county anticipates an industrial development. How will our children fit into industry. First we must strive for further accreditation. We know that some of our children intend to go to college. When we work for further accreditation, we give our children the assurance that they will make better grades in college. If an electronics industry decided to locate in our county, they would soon discover that we don't have qualified personnel for the field. We could remedy this with more industrial art classes in our county school system. I ask you to give me the honor of working for your children and five children who are in the Hancock County School System.

SAFE BOATING PRECAUTIONS

1. Read and have respect for U.S. Weather Bureau warnings. Begin safe anchorage trip before storm tide arrives.
2. Trailer boats should be removed from the water and stored.
3. Out-of-area boats should inquire and plan a desirable and convenient location for safe anchorage or follow local boats to a safe anchorage area.
4. Safe anchor rigging should consist of new or good tie ropes, with extra length and at least 3 or 4 substantial anchors for the craft.
5. If possible, boats should anchor in groups with bow lines individually tied high to tree or piling on mainland, with loose rope for rising tide, and the sterns well anchored to hooks. Boats in the group should also be tied together at bows and sterns using protective bumpers or fenders between. Outside boats of the group should be bridled off from stern to protect entire anchored group from angling or extreme movement due to wind and current (smaller boats in center of this type anchorage have been known to fill with water, but could not sink due to cradle effect between other boats.)
6. Do not tie up parallel to bank, receding tides often beaches or capsize boats in this type anchorage.
7. Be sure that a navigable passage at stern of secured boats is made available for late arriving boats seeking safe anchorage beyond the first boats anchored.
8. Safe anchorage boats should be tied high, using a half hitch knot (look knots slip), lengths should be sufficient to take care of excessive high water.
9. Lay in supplies for three-day stay.

Bay High Seniors Can Register Now

Bay Senior High School students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements and to enter college in 1970 can register now to participate in the 1969-70 National Merit Scholarship Program, Director of Guidance Billy Sills announced today.

The first step for all students who wish to enter the nationwide competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST). The test will be given in the school at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday, February 18, 1969. Participating students pay a $1.25 fee. When the test is given on a Saturday, the school may charge an additional fee up to $1.25 for special administrative costs of testing on a nonschool day. If an unusually promising student is unable to pay the $1.25 test fee, it will be paid by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) at the request of his school.

When his NMQST scores are reported, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him evaluate his scores and compare his performance with that of other high school students across the country. The handbook also contains information about choosing a college and financing college education. The handbook and other interpretive materials are furnished as a part of reporting the test results.

The highest-scoring students in each state will be named Semifinalists and will be eligible for Merit Scholarship consideration. In addition to the National Merit Scholarship financed by NMSC, more than 370 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, other organizations, and individuals offer scholarships through the Merit Program.

About 18,750 students have won Merit Scholarships in the thirteen Merit Programs to date. Approximately 2,900 new winners of Merit Scholarships will enter college in the fall of 1968.
